Just admit it: you're as easily swayed as the next person by the messages of corporate America. This week, though, visiting artists and thinkers stage interventions designed to make us reconsider the sloganeering. You can break your complacency, test your perception, and reinvent the new century, one epiphany at a time. Reclaim your rights, and spread it.

Which would make the best half-time slogan?

CNET DOWNLOAD.COM Is your source for all things downloadable. You'll find 50,000 free and legal MP3s from your favorite artists, 10,000 game demos and freeware, and a comprehensive library of free and free-to-try software downloads. Be sure to put us on your to-do list.

AUGUST 24 - AUGUST 30
Like good citizens, we're warming up our medullas for the arrival of Bush (and his brain) next Monday. Unconventional occurrences designed to get our imaginations awhirl include: an on-time performance from Gil Scott-Heron, a rare appearance by director Robert Altman, a revolutionary-minded art salon, and a potentially dangerous techno flare-up. But if furrow-flexing stresses you out, you can always learn how to stop worrying and rock — or ponder potential winnings by entering our all-goodness flavorpack contest. Whatever vision you choose, never underestimate the power of the mind. Fire some neurons, and spread it...

What does your brain the most damage?

In 1855, the first edition of Leaves of Grass appeared, consisting of twelve untitled poems and a preface outlining the author's poetics. An initial commercial failure, this volume was the first stage of a massive, lifelong enterprise. Six editions and some thirty-seven years later, Leaves of Grass would become one of the central works in the history of world poetry. This Vintage Books/The Library of America edition includes both the 1855 first edition in its exact, original form and the magnificent final edition of 1891-

A movie poster for the film "Never Die Alone". The poster features a close-up of a man's face, with a focus on his eyes and the intensity of his gaze. The lighting is dramatic, with strong highlights and shadows. The overall mood is dark and atmospheric, fitting the neo-noir genre. The title "NEVER DIE ALONE" is prominently displayed in large, stylized letters on the right side of the poster. At the top left, there are links to "BUY THE DVD" and "REGISTER". At the top right, it says "BASED ON THE EXPLOSIVE URBAN NOVEL BY DONALD GOINES". Several positive reviews are quoted in the center: "A stellar neo-noir" by Mark Holcolm from The Village Voice, "DMX gives a fearless performance" by Roger Ebert from the Chicago Sun-Times, and "Electrifying" by Scott Foundas from LA Weekly.
